Manna Gallery, 473 25th Street, Oakland, CA: Lou Bermingham - Primal Visions.

Review by JE: Bermingham draws on the subconscious energy of totemic animals, shapes and symbols to explore the stretching of time back into a prehistory of human awareness. These mixed media works reveal flashes of what lies in the periphery vision of the mind, a primal glance at the edges of thought and thinking. The show is in the gallery until September 6th.
